

Another successful (and wet!) year in the Horse Care Pavillion at Spruce Meadows the 'National'. Hundreds of students flooded the pavillion between June 6 and 10th to learn about horse care.

Students especially enjoyed the "manure management" station, which features mucking out stalls looking for treasures. Finding small horse figurines to take home as souvenirs is a much more pleasant treasure than what most of us find in our stalls! The rain did not deter horse enthusiasts from attending the tournament on the weekend either. Thank you to our volunteers and to Spruce Meadows for another successful year.
