

Q: Does law require that all horses sold in Alberta must be sold with a halter?

A: Although it is traditionally done, generally thought of as good business practice and commonly considered law, there is actually no legislation in Alberta stating that a horse must be sold with a halter.